2017 Georgetown Leadership Seminar

Fundacja Edukacyjna Jana Karskiego is pleased to announce its second open competition for participation in:

2017 GEORGETOWN LEADERSHIP SEMINAR

sponsored by the Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University. This one-week seminar will be organized in Washington, D.C., at the end of October 2017, for 35 emerging leaders from all over the world.

The objectives of the Georgetown Leadership Seminar are:

- to promote among emerging world leaders a dialogue leading to cross-disciplinary cooperation in international affairs;
- to expose participants to, and therefore broaden their understanding of, the major issues in the foreign policy-making process in the United States through direct contact with top level American policy makers
- to establish and cultivate an ongoing network crucial to strengthening international cooperation and areas of agreement among leaders in the global community.

Candidates:

Fundacja Edukacyjna Jana Karskiego was invited to nominate two Polish candidates for participation in the 2017 Seminar. We therefore wish to encourage civil servants, experts and managers, employees of public and local government institutions, leaders of non-governmental organizations as well as journalists and scholars, to apply for nomination to the Seminar.
